NEW STUDENT COMMUNICATIONS – AFTER MAY 1

A&O LEARNING OUTCOMES
Through participation in A&O, students will:
1. Identify campus resources that will assist students with their transition to the UW;
2. Describe the importance of meeting with an academic adviser;
3. Discuss the UW's diverse population and identify ways they can contribute to an inclusive community;
4. Recognize university terminology as it relates to academics and student life;
5. Practice using the UW class registration system and register for at least one class;
6. Identify ways to enhance their Husky Experience through interactions with faculty, staff, and the community;
7. Explain the importance of developing a community of academic and social support.

Freshmen
1. Describe the value of building community both inside and outside of the classroom;
2. Identify ways to explore majors and academic areas of interest;
3. Recognize the similarities and differences between high school and college in order to successfully navigate their college experience.

Transfers
1. Identify ways to make the best of the limited time (2-3 years) at the UW;
2. Articulate types of resources transfer students need to utilize during their time at the UW.

FIRST YEAR PROGRAMS

First Year Programs fosters a successful undergraduate student experience through strategic programming that focuses on positive academic transitions and the development of learning communities. Through partnerships with faculty, staff, alumni, and student leaders our programs create the space for students to define how they will engage, learn, and thrive at the University of Washington.

- University 101 (U101): Foundational online, pre-orientation modules that introduce foundational information through videos, written content, and diagrams.
- Advising & Orientation (A&O): On-campus or hybrid experience that applies U101 through academic discovery, exploration, and community building.
- Husky Guide (HG): Print publication distributed at A&O that engages students through written activities and expanded information.
- Dawg Daze (DD): Welcome week that allows students to engage with campus resources and experience life on campus.
- First-year Interest Groups & Seminars (FIG): Experiences that allow students to become familiar with and explore academic norms and expectations in the classroom.
- Commuter & Transfer Commons (CTC): Dedicated space in the Husky Union Building (HUB 141) for commuter and transfer students to build community.
