As part of your Check Out don't forget to complete the Transfer A&O Program Evaluation fyp.washington.edu/treval
There are four major factors that influence a person's ability to cope with transferring to a new school. Some transfer students will react differently than others based on assets they have in each of the four areas outlined below. Take some time to think about the reflection questions in each area. Outline some goals that will help you make the most out of this new experience of becoming a Husky.

Assets & Goals

Based on your answers to the reflection questions, what assets do you currently have that will make your transition easier?

Reflection Questions

Situation
- Why did I choose to transfer?
- Why did I choose to attend UW?
- Besides a degree, what do I hope to get out of this experience?
- What messages am I hearing from myself or others about my decision to transfer to UW?
- How do I feel about my degree pathway or timeline to graduation?
- What do I anticipate life will look like when I start classes this quarter (course load, studying, free-time, family obligations, work/volunteer responsibilities, other)?

Self
- How do I feel about the transfer transition so far?
- How do I feel about what's still to come?
- Based on my previous college experience, what do I know about myself as a student (habits, tendencies, needs, characteristics)?
- How committed am I to my major or career choices?
- Do I believe I can do this?
- How will I know if I need help?

Support
- Who do I count on for support?
- Will this change as I transition to UW?
- Do I already know some specific offices or people at UW who can help me if I need it?
- What will I do if they don’t provide the answer I am looking for?
- How will I recognize qualified experts/accurate information?
- What will it take for me to be brave enough to ask for help?

Strategies
- What did I do at my previous institution that worked well?
- What didn’t work?
- What sort of services or activities should I have taken advantage of at my previous school but didn’t?
- What are some new or different experiences I’d like to try at UW?
- What classes, programs, clubs, events, or opportunities have already peaked my interest?

Satisfactory Progress Policy from the first page

Registration Holds: Students who have completed 105 credits and 5 or more quarters, but are not in a major will receive a registration hold and will not be allowed to register. For transfer students coming in with 90 credits, this typically means you are expected to be in a major during your second quarter at the University of Washington.

Pre-Major Extensions: Students with this registration hold, who have not been admitted to a major, will need to work with their academic adviser because a Pre-Major Extension (PME) may be required. A PME is an education tool designed to support a student's informed choice of, and preparation for, a major. PMEs are granted at the discretion of a student’s academic adviser and are typically granted for one quarter.
